75 HEAD TO BE IN ANNUAL AUCTIONPreparations Being Made For Eighth
Jersey Sale at Jersey Isle
Stock Farm.

IT WILL BE SATURDAY, MAY 25

Get of Famous Derry's Jolly, Which Sold For $11,000, in This Year's Sale.Catalogues are being mailed for the eighth annual importation sale of "Jersey of Correct Type" which will be held at Jersey Isle stock farm,
four miles west of the city, Saturday,
May 25.The auction is about a week earlier this year than it generally is.
Seventy-five head of imported animals and their offsprings, "deep in the blood of the Island's most fashionable families," as the catalogue states, will be sold to the highest bidder.Rushville is the mecca for fancy Jersey breeders the day of the annual sale at A. P. Walker's farm. Mr.
Walker has established a reputation with his imported stock that attracts buyers here from some of the most remote points in the United States.The sale this year promises to rival with that of any previous year. As has been the custom in past years,
the auction will be held under a large tent in the yard near the Jersey cattle barns.Draconis of St. Saviour's is the bull that comes first in the catalogue
this year. He won first over Jersey, the famous bull, in August, 1911. He is a son of Mabel's Raleigh and is advertised as the king of all the Raleighs. He is of the same stock as the best bull sold last year, Pennithorpe's Raleigh. This bull was a son of Mabel's Raleigh. Draconis of St. Saviour's is a grandson of Emi-nent's Raleigh and Financial King.In the last three years the owners of the Jersey Isle stock farm have imported four sons of Mabel's Raleigh, all splendid bulls. It is believed Draconis of St. Saviour's surpasses the other three sons of Mabel's Raleigh
which have come to the Rushville farm. The importers say they have never been able to offer a bull more regally bred or with more producing blood in his pedigree.The blood of the famous Plymouth Lad, the first prize and senior champion bull at the Indiana State fair
in 1910, will be found in the auction
this year. Seven cows and heifers by this noted sire will be placed under the block and auctioned off to the highest bidder. The Plymouth Lad sold for $9,000 in 1910 sale at the Jersey Isle Stock farm and his son, Plymouth Lad's Golden Jolly brought $2,000.Notable among the get of the Plymouth Lad in this year's auction is Plymouth's Graceful Beauty. She is one of the best of the famous sire's stock and is bred very much like Lady Hermit who sold for $950 when only two years old. She is a strong, rugged, well-grown cow with lots of capacity, both for feed and production of milk. She has a handsome head, broad well-dished face, a pretty face and very large prominent eyes.The get of the highest price Jersey ever sold in the history of the seven Jersey Isle stock farm auctions is to be found in this year's stock, which is to be sold. Derry's Lucy is a daughter of Derry's Golden Jolly which brought $11,000 in the sale of 1909.It has been twelve years since the first bunch of Jerseys was imported from the Jersey Isle to the Jersey Isle stock farm by Mr. Walker. Since

BOYS MISSING FROM HOME

Police Asked to Help Find Cincinnati
Youths.The police have received word from Cincinnati to be on the lookout for Robert and Urban Nichols, age six and four, respectively, who are thought to have been kidnapped there on April 29. The neighborhood in which they were last seen is inhabited by Hungarians and it is thought that they may have been picked up by some of them. The parents of the children reside at 2012 Whiteman

offer a reward, but a prominent merchant of Cincinnati has deposited $25 to be used for this purpose.MAY'S COLD WAVE

A miniature cold wave that struck Rushville Saturday midnight and was followed by a frigid, drizzling rain set the city shivering Sunday. The maximum temperature for the last thirty hours registered at the office of the United States Weather Bureau
Saturday midnight, was 59 degrees.
The temperature at 8 o'clock last night was 40 degrees, but the damp
air and brisk winds from the southwest made the air seem exceedingly chilly. Weather bureau officials said the temperature yesterday was not sufficiently low to set a new record.
At eight o'clock this morning the temperature had risen to only 48 above.No frost was apparent here this morning. Fruit growers are very apprehensive about this year's crop.
They fear the chill of yesterday's winds and cold rain, may have been very damaging.LITTLE BUSINESS
IN CIRCUIT COURTTwo Cases Set For Trial Today Were Disposed of Several Days Ago.

NO ACTION IN HARRIS CASE

There was little going on in the circuit court today. One case was disposed of and that was about the extent of the business. Two cases were set for trial today. That of Lacey and others against the T. H. I.
& E. Traction Company was settled a few days ago and the Basil Seward liquor license revocation case which was set for a hearing today did not come up because the defendant had filed a motion for a change of venue.Wilk & Redman got judgment today by default against Ed Spradling in the sum of $176.85. They filed suit on a note for $200. The original note was for $158 and the balance of the judgment was for interest and attorneys' fees.No disposition has been made yet
of the Harris murder case.STATISTICS ON pares Report at Request of State Superintendent.

89 SCHOOLS IN RUSH COUNTY

Report Reveals That the Old District
Schools Are Giving Way to Advanced Consolidated Ones.County Superintendent C. M.
George has prepared his data on Rush county schools to be used by the State superintendent, Charles A.
Greathouse, as material for his biennial report. The statistics on Rush county schools were asked by the State superintendent recently, and today Prof. George completed them and mailed his report to Mr.
Greathouse.The report shows there are eighty-nine schools in Rush county—not including the towns and cities—with more than twelve pupils. They are arranged in groups as follows: Five with twelve pupils or fewer; five with fifteen pupils and more than twelve;
twenty-six with twenty pupils and more than fifteen, and fifty-five with more than twenty pupils.There are fifteen consolidated schools in Rush county, according to the report. The pupils of twenty-nine schools are transported to district schools. Pupils of five schools are transported to town or city schools. There are five consolidated schools made up of two district schools; two made up of three districts; four made up of four districts and four made up of more than four districts.There are eleven consolidated schools doing high school work and one town school doing high school work. Of the eleven consolidated schools, two are doing two years'
high school work, two are doing
three years, and seven are doing four years.Forty schools, according to the report, have been abandoned in Rush county prior to the opening of the schools in September, 1911. Two schools have been re-established by permission of the acts of 1909.There are a total number of 262 children transferred for school purposes in Rush county. Of this total 107 are transferred for grade work to township; 110 for grade work to cities and towns; 45 for high school work to cities and towns; and none for high school work to private or parochial schools.In only one—Jackson—of the twelve townships in the county has the consolidated school not been attempted, says the report. In the other eleven the consolidated school has been a success. One township has a complete consolidation and in only one township are the schools consolidated in one central school. This is in Washington township and the central school is at Raleigh.There are four consolidated grade schools and one consolidated high school which employ two teachers.
One consolidated high school in the county employs seven teachers; two employ six teachers; one employs five teachers; four employ four teachers and two employ three teachers.Although the report does not show
this fact the county superintendent thinks it noteworthy that all the teachers with less than four years' experience which are employed in the county, are in the township schools, with the exception of two.There are three music teachers and drawing teachers employed in the county. Five supervisors are employed to supervise in two or more

HE CAN'T COMEDr. W. E. Biederwolf Wites It is Impossible to Come for September Revival.

DECIDE TO WAIT FOR HIM

Plans Practically Made For Statewide Evangelistic Campaign
Which Starts in Rush.Publicity is being given in the metropolitan newspapers to the Statewide evangelistic campaign which is to be conducted this fall by Dr. W. E.
Biederwolf, the famous evangelist,
the details of which have already been explained here.A letter has been received by the local ministers from Dr. Biederwolf in answer to the invitation which they extended to him to come to Rush
county to open the Hoosier simultaneous campaign. In the communication he states that he can not come here in September, as was asked by the Rushville ministers, because of other arrangements, and only intimates that he can come to Rushville later.The letter was read at the regular meeting of the Rushville Ministerial Association this afternoon, and it was the unanimous consent of the pastors that the meeting should not be opened early in September with another evangelist, which was the suggestion of Dr. Biederwolf.The Rushville preachers deemed it the wisest course to pursue not to hold a meeting unless Biederwolf could be had. They will answer the letter and ask if it will be possible for him to come to Rushville later in the fall.The Rev. E. L. Williams, an evangelist of Indianapolis, who put the proposition to local churchmen, will assist Dr. Biederwolf in selecting the large number of evangelists to be used in the campaign. The Rev. Mr.
Williams will also be engaged in the revival.It will be recalled Dr. Williams was one of the experts at the Men and Religion Forward Movement campaign here, and when he found the interest in that movement so good, he decided this would be a good point to initiate the Statewide movement. It had already been presented in Indianapolis at that time and a number of prominent men had taken up with the idea and approved of it.The question of starting the campaign here next fall was discussed
here pro and con at several meetings,
and then the Rushville Ministerial Association, at its meeting a week ago today, passed resolutions favorable to the proposed revival. The laymen's meeting the following day, Tuesday, concurred in the action of the ministers and adopted their resolutions as the sense of the meeting.
The matter of inviting Dr. Biederwolf to open the Hoosier campaign here
was left to the Ministerial Association, and a letter of invitation has already been sent to the noted evangelist.It is highly probable that the first meeting of the series in Indiana will be held in Rush county as this county first made the request for the revival. The Ministerial Association of Frankfort has invited the Rev.
Mr. Williams to present the plan in detail, with a view of holding a campaign in that county. Other counties will be accepted as they apply.The movement has been indorsed by the committee of one hundred of the Men and Religion Forward Movement of Indianapolis, and is to be carried on under the direction of the national federated evangelistic committee. Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, will be the campaign leader, and the Rev.

WATSON TALKS TO RED MEN

Chief Speaker at Newcastle Celebra-

Sunday at the annual observance of St. Tamina day by the Newcastle tribe of Red Men. In the morning the lodge gathered at its hall and marched to the United Brethren church, where a special sermon was delivered by the Rev. A. B. Arford. In the afternoon the members again assembled and, headed by the Hagerstown band, marched in parade to Southmound Cemetery where memorial services were held and address given by Mr. Watson.WASN'T GOING TO

From Rear of Smith Saloon to the Lock-up.

WAS HUNTING FOR A FIGHT

Thomas Trowbridge attracted about as much attention this afternoon as was possible for one man to attract. In fact Tom was the whole show. He created a disturbance in the rear of the Smith saloon in Main street, while under the influence of liquor, and either refused or could not walk to jail. He was dragged the entire distance and the sight attracted a large crowd.It is understood Trowbridge had been in a fighting mood all day and on several different occasions had tried to pick a fight. He lives at 523
North Arthur street and was given an opportunity to go home, but was so crazy drunk that he refused. He will be tried tomorrow morning be-

MAD DOG SCARE

Chief McAllister was called to West Tenth street this morning to kill a mad dog. The dog belonged to J. L. Black, 619 West Tenth street, and had the entire neighborhood frightened. The dog had all the appearances of being mad, but the supposition is that it had been poisoned.DAY GENERALLY OBSERVED HEREFine Tributes Are Paid to Motherhood at Special Services in Churches Sunday.

SOLOS FEATURE OF PROGRAMS

Large Crowd Attends Meeting at the First Baptist Church Under the Auspices of Woodmen.Mother's day was more generally observed in Rushville yesterday than it has ever been since the origin of the day which is surrounded by the sentiment that clings to the word Mother. In all the churches special services were held in commemoration of the day. Even though the weather was far from favorable,
large audiences were in attendance at most of the churches.Each mother who attended the Sunday school at the Main Street
Christian church yesterday morning was presented with a carnation. The morning service at the church was for the special observance of the day and the pastor preached a sermon on the subject "Mother." J. Walter Wilson sang an appropriate solo."The Secret of Mother's Power"
was the sermon selected by the Rev.
J. B. Meacham at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He paid a fine tribute to motherhood.The special service for the day was held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He paid a fine tribute to motherhood. The hundred carnations were given away at the Sunday school and morning
church service.The special service for the day was held at the St. Paul M. E. church in the evening. The Rev. W. H.
Wylie preached on the subject,
"Mother's Day Message." Special music was a feature of the service."Mother's Devotion" was the topic of the Rev. A. W. Jamieson's sermon at the special Mother's day service
at the United Presbyterian church Sunday morning.Notwithstanding the inclement weather, a fair sized audience attended the Mother's day meeting, held under the auspices of the Modern Woodmen of America, at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon, and a very impressive service was held.Pink and white carnations were distributed to the audience by Neighbor James Wright and each one present was thereby provided with an official flower.The audience sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and the Rev.
J. S. Arvin eloquently invoked the divine blessing on those assembled, and stated the object of the meeting.Miss Norma Smith sang very sweetly and impressively "My Mother's Song to Me," which was followed by an address by the Rev. C. M. Yocum, his theme being "Mother—the Unrewarded Queen." The Rev. Mr.
Yocum's presentation of his subject was profoundly eloquent, and as he portrayed the loving, tender care of our mothers, many in the audience wept audibly and few eyes there were that were not dimmed with tears.The Rev. J. S. Arvin sang "Tell Mother I'll be There," very impres-sively and emphasized the sentiment-ment of the song beautifully, and the Rev. C. M. Yocum told the history of the song with deep pathos; after which the audience sang the doxology and was dismissed with a benediction by the Rev. Mr. Yocum.—Miss Alma Green, who is attending Western College at Oxford, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Green.

THE SOCIALISTS NOW IN SESSION

Indianapolis Meeting Is a Cosmopolitan Gathering.

SOME INTERESTING FEATURES

Predictions Are Rife That the Convention Will Be a Turbulent One and That the Chief Issues Up For Action Will Be Hard Fought—Wide Division Among Delegates on Choice of Presidential Nominee.

Indianapolis, May 13.—According to delegates and national committeemen, for those who expect a cut-and-dried convention of the Socialist party now in session here, there may be a surprise in store. Predictions are rife that the convention will be a turbulent one and that the chief issues up for action will be hard fought. That the convention is one for which no forecast may be made is seen in the division of opinion among the delegates on the choice of the presidential nominee. A large majority of the convention delegates have come uninstructed on this question and sentiment expressed so far leads to the belief that Eugene V. Debs may be chosen again to head the ticket through a division of votes for other candidates.

The Socialist party, whether in state, county or national convention, has an entirely different program and order of events than either of the old parties. A different chairman will be selected at each session of the national convention, the party having no national chairman. The national secretary attends to the duties that in other parties fall to the chairmen.

What appear to be the chief issues, aside from the selection of the national ticket, are the positions the Socialists will take on the labor union and "white slave" questions. The former is of the most importance to the men of the party, while the latter has been recommended by the women. Women are recognized by the Socialist party and are granted suffrage in the party the same as men. In many states women have been nominated by the Socialists on state tickets.

An interesting feature of the convention is the cosmopolitan makeup of the Socialist delegation that has surged into Indianapolis from all quarters of the United States. The rank and file of the delegates are wage earners, although a number approaching the majority of visitors here for the convention represent a class in socialism that rules the destinies of the party. The rank and file has been satisfied in trusting its policies chiefly to the writers and lecturers, the men who do things in their movement, either with the pen or by their oratory.

The convention opened at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and the examination of credentials and committee appointments comprised the initial day's work. The committee reports will be brought before the convention tomorrow, so that Wednesday and Thursday may be consumed in taking action on the reports. The nominations for president and vice president will be made Friday afternoon.

It is almost certain that the following names will be presented for the two positions on the party ticket: Charles Edward Russell, Eugene V. Debs, Emil Seidel, James H. Maurer, Job Harriman and Max S. Hayes. The name of Carl Thompson of Milwaukee may be presented, and some delegates assert that the name of William D. Haywood will be offered. Duncan McDonald, said to be a probability, has declined, it is said, to allow his name to be brought before the convention. A distinct boom for Emil Seidel also has appeared. Missouri delegates are strong for Seidel and Wisconsin is solid in support of the erstwhile Milwaukee Socialist mayor.

NO FRAUD SHOWN

Court Sees No Reason For Interfering in Merger Plans.

Indianapolis, May 13.—The injunction to prevent the consolidation of the Union Traction company of Indiana and the Indiana Union Traction company, and the plea for the appointment of a receiver in a suit in the Marion circuit court were denied by Judge Remster. Briefly, the court decided that the Indiana laws allow corporations to consolidate on vote of a majority of the stockholders, and that no fraud sufficient for the granting of an injunction or appointing a receiver was shown.

PLAN G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

South Bend Old Soldiers and Chamber of Commerce Are Making Extensive Preparations.

IT WILL BE HELD MAY 21 to 23

Thirty-Third Annual Gathering is Expected to be Greatest in History of State.

South Bend, Ind., May 13.—Extensive preparations are being made here by the joint committees of the Chamber of Commerce and Auten post, No. 8, Norman Eddy post, 579, and Notre Dame post, 569, for the entertainment of the 33d annual encampment of the department of Indiana, G. A. R., which takes place May 21 to 23, both inclusive. Despite the fast depleting ranks of the Grand Army it is calculated to make this one of the greatest encampments in the history of the state.

The department of Indiana, G. A. R., is composed of 356 posts, and a total membership of 12,218 in good standing. Each of the posts will send delegates, and it is expected that a considerable portion of the membership will also attend, besides numerous veterans who are not members and citizens who are not veterans. Sufficient accommodations for all delegates and visitors are being arranged for and the program will be full of life and entertainment from beginning to end.

The annual parade will take place on Wednesday, May 22, with Chief of Staff David Strouse, of post No. 9, Rockville, in charge. Chief Bugler J. W. Clemson, post No. 7, Crawfordsville, will be at his command with sufficient band music to enliven the veterans' steps. The line will form at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and it is expected that there will be at least 6,000 veterans in line. Edward P. Chapin, of local post No. 8, will be officer of the day, and John S. Steele, of local post No. 579, will be officer of the guard, during the encampment and have power to detail from their respective posts such assistants as are needed.

Among the bands in the line of march will be Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home band of 34 pieces, from Knightstown, declared to be second to no boys' band in the country, and which is conceded everywhere to be an honor to the state and the state department, it having served as a special attraction to a number of encampments in other jurisdictions.

Commander-in-Chief H. M. Trimble, of the national department, with headquarters at Princeton, Ill., will be here, and as given out from the state headquarters and committee on credentials will consist of J. R. Fessler, assistant adjutant general, Indianapolis; Flavius J. Van Voorhis, post 17, Indianapolis, and Orlando A. Somers, post 30 Kokomo, members of the council of administration; J. T. Davenport, post 55, Richmond senior vice commander; F. M. Van Pelt, post 244, Anderson, patriotic instructor, and Newton M. Taylor, post 369, Indianapolis. The committee will report to J. R. Fessler at camp headquarters here the afternoon of the 21st, and continue their sessions until the encampment begins.

The election of officers will be held Thursday morning, May 23, at 8:30 o'clock, at which time will also be an election of delegates to the national encampment. Campfires will be held in the evening following the parade, for which ample halls are being arranged.

The matter of transportation has been taken up with the Central Passenger association by a proper committee, and reduced rates over the steam and electric roads are certain to result.

Lois La Dauer, post 106, Valparaiso, and Jacob Sheffer, post 62, Williamsport, have been made aides on the staff Department Commander Dan Waugh, whose membership is with Post 203, Tipton.

Gascarets Gleanse Liver and Bowels

No Biliousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you a thorough cleansing inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a ten-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Stoddard-Dayton

The "Savoy" motor is quiet, powerful, flexible

The "Savoy" motor does its work not only efficiently but quietly. You can pay several thousand dollars for a car and not secure a motor that will run noticeably quieter. When the car is standing still you often have to put your hand on the hood to "feel" whether the motor is running or not.

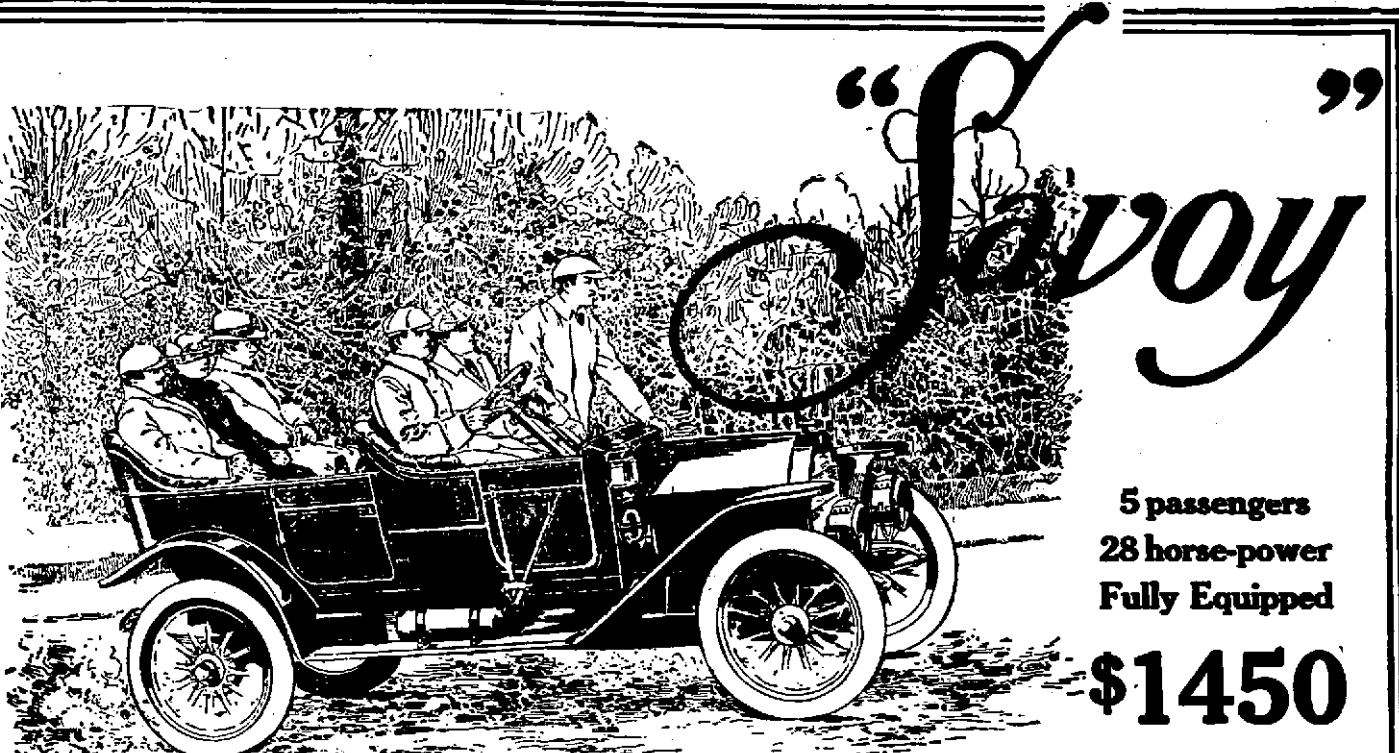

Ask your motoring friends if their cars will stand such tests as these. Come in and see the "Savoy." Ride in it while we put it to these tests—and any other tests you wish. Arrange an appointment today—now. There's no obligation attached to this—we are always glad to demonstrate these cars to anyone at anytime.

You can get out and walk beside the "Savoy" while the gear is in "high" and throttled down close. This you can do not only on smooth roads, but on cobble stone pavements.

The "Savoy" equipment includes magneto, Q. D. Rims, top and top bolt, nickel plated trimmings, gas tank and five lamps, 33 x 4 tires. Wheelbase 112 inches, cylinders 4x4. We also have the "Savoy" in a two passenger compartment roadster for $1350.

For eight years the Stoddard-Dayton factory has been building quality cars.

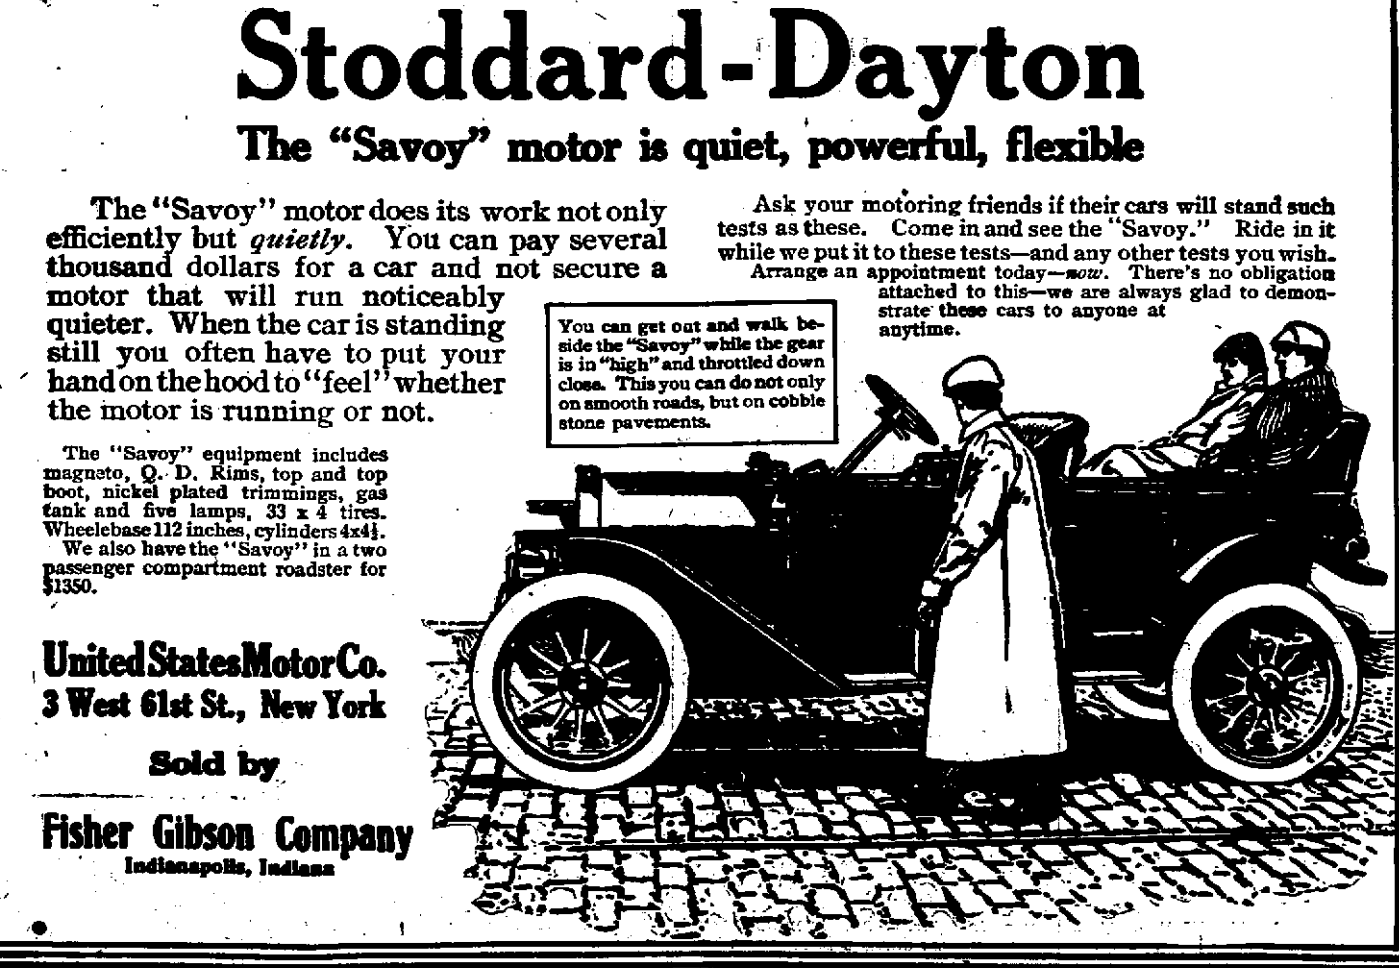

For eight years these cars have been giving extraordinary service to their owners.

For eight years they have been building up a reputation which has spread until all motorists acknowledge the excellence of the Stoddard-Dayton product.

The fact that these cars are graceful in line, splendidly finished and appointed, roomy and comfortable, and meeting all service demands, and yet sell from $500 to $1000 less than other cars in their class, is now being generally appreciated.

Their lower price is due to lower overhead expenses, economical administration and a policy of reasonable profits.

Any price you pay (more than you need to pay for a car that will do all you require of it) is wasteful expenditure. You can pay upwards of $4000 for a car that will do no more for you than this Stoddard-Dayton "Savoy" which costs only $1450.

"Mother's day" was widely celebrated Sunday, special attention being paid to its observance in the churches.

PANAMANS CALL FOR AID FROM AMERICANS

They Admit Their Inability to Hold Elections.

Panama, May 13.—For the registration of voters Sunday was the last legal day and there were many disgraceful scenes at the municipal building, where electoral jury, as it is called, was holding its regular session. The secretary of the municipal council, the president of the election jury and his substitute were arrested by the police, who disregarded all protests by members of the jury as to the immunity of officials.

The trouble was caused by political pressure brought to bear on the "inscription squads" or registration officials of the police department. About 100 of these finally inscribed themselves and then reported that all electoral work would be suspended pending the decision of the United States government on the request for a supervision of the elections. There are no guarantees as to the right of suffrage, and America has been asked to see to it that there is a fair election.

MUST FIGHT ALONE

Stereotypers and Their Allies Get No Aid From Printers.

Chicago, May 13.—A decisive victory was won by the Chicago newspaper publishers and a smashing blow dealt to the striking pressmen and their allies when Chicago Typographical union No. 16 Sunday voted by a substantial majority against participating in the conflict. This means that the pressmen, stereotypers, wagon men and newsboys who quit some days ago must wage their fight alone.

Found Fuse Near Fire.

Shelbyville, Ind., May 13.—Fifteen feet of fuse was discovered by a detective engaged by residents of St. Paul to investigate the recent burning of the Kelso business room and home. The fuse was near one of the buildings that was destroyed, and the opinion of the citizens there is that the building was set on fire.

BEST THEY CAN POSSIBLY GET

Anthracite Miners Now In a Mood to Accept.

NO MORE STRIKE COMMISSION

Rather Than Have Their Dispute Again Submitted to Outsiders, as in the Previous Strike, Hard Coal Men Now Are in Favor of Taking Word of Their National and District Leaders as a Proper Guide.

Scranton, Pa., May 13.—Sentiment has completely veered hereabouts on the question of the acceptance or rejection of the tentative agreement for settling the hard coal suspension. Most significant of many developments of the past few days is a statement from one of the prominent officials who has been fighting the acceptance of the agreement in its present form, that the delegates to the Wilkesbarre convention tomorrow will vote for acceptance. "The locals seem to be in favor now of taking what the district presidents tell them is the best they can possibly get," said this official, "rather than to have the dispute go before the anthracite strike commission. No more strike commission for them. Then again, they are getting tired of a suspension and do not relish the prospect of going on strike with no funds available in either the national or district treasuries to pay strike benefits."

"The recent ominous outbreaks in the foreign mining settlements, too, have had the effect of changing the views of the rank and file of the miners."

WINNING STRENGTH

White and His District Chiefs Gaining New Support Hourly.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 13.—At several meetings of the miners Sunday determined efforts were put forth to secure backing for National President John P. White and his three district chiefs for the convention which opens here tomorrow. The conservative element has buckled on its fighting armor, and at the various meetings the danger of turning down the national and district officers was pointed out. The movement now recruits to the cause which the national president and the district heads will espouse when it comes time for the miners to say whether they will or will not stand by the agreement which the sub-committee accepted in its deliberations with a sub-committee of the operators. Many of the miners' leaders now see that to turn down the proposition which their leaders accepted would be putting the organization in a bad light and perhaps bring about its disruption.

Much talk hinged on the work of the Industrial Workers of America, which is a rival organization of the miners' union. The conservative leaders declared that to turn down the report of the sub-committee and reject the tentative offer would be to give the new organization a lease of life and help foster a movement which is endeavoring to wipe out the present organization. The work of the missionaries sent among the men set the miners in general to thinking. The plain facts were put up to them, and when the meetings broke up there were many frank admissions that the committee had perhaps done its best and that the best thing after all might be to accept the agreement for a term of four years.

Recovering More Bodies.

Halifax, N. S., May 13.—The agent of the marine department has received a message from Captain Johnson on the government steamship Montagnie announcing that the bodies of four Titanic victims have been recovered. The Montagnie is working under great difficulties of fog, but she is keeping at the search day and night. All the bodies landed at Halifax have now been buried with the exception of one which will be held for a day or two more pending instructions from friends.

Richmond See's Big Meeting.

Richmond, Ind., May 13.—The Richmond Commercial club is now trying to get the 1912 meeting of the National Municipal league for this city. The meeting place this year is at Los Angeles, and heretofore only large cities have been selected, but as William Dudley Foulke of this city is serving his second term as president of the league, it is believed Richmond's chances are more than favorable.

Long Chase Ended.

Philadelphia, May 13.—After leading the police of half a dozen cities a chase across the continent and eluding capture for more than a year, Henry Allen, thirty-three years old, was caught here and held to await requisition to Los Angeles on numerous charges of forgery.

A Destructive Windstorm.

Petersburg, Ind., May 13.—A cyclone that formed just south of this city passed over the southern part of the county, unroofing barns and houses and blowing down many trees. Hail fell as large as quail eggs.

George Lockwood.

George Lockwood, editor of the Marion Chronicle, is not a chance; he's an opportunity if the State convention of the Republican party sees fit to endorse a county local option plank in the State platform.

Mr. Lockwood has started his hat on its journey toward the ring. He has brought joy to his long list of admirers by announcing that he will accept the Republican nomination for governor if he will have the support of a united party and if the State convention comes out irrevocably in favor of county local option.

It is our surmise that George Lockwood would give Indiana the best administration it has had for years if he would insert that energy and virile forcefulness that has characterized his career thus far as a newspaper editor.

He is a man of convictions; one who believes what he believes to the greatest intensity possible. As an editorial writer he has few equals in Indiana, and he has demonstrated his executive ability in a number of ways.

George Lockwood has been a force in the Eighth congressional district. But he has exerted the most influence as a staunch and consistent supporter of the temperance cause in Indiana. He has never fought a losing battle by affiliating himself with the Prohibition party. He believes in the principals of the Republican party and has always defended them with an impetuosity that is seldom equaled in the newspaper field.

Sincerely, and with a power of expression that few men have, George Lockwood has fought the great liquor interests of the State unceasingly and uncompromisingly. He has taken to task all Republicans and Republican newspapers who have seen fit to line up with the liquor powers. Of course, he has made bitter enemies, but they all respect him as a worthy foe, and one that is much to be feared.

With the county option plank, George Lockwood would be the so-called logical candidate.

Swat 'Em!

The campaign against flies has been started by the State Board of Health. The following suggestions are made:

Flies are the badge of dirt and filth—present on your premises or your neighbor's premises.

It is not difficult to greatly reduce the number or to exterminate them. If we clean up all the unsanitary places and keep them clean, we will have no flies.

The average number of bacteria which one fly may carry is estimated at 1,250,000.

Flies are looked upon in general as simply an annoyance. The cleanly housewife endeavors to keep them out of the dwelling, but the men folks frequently fail to sympathize in the effort, and leave the doors and the screens open.

It has been learned now that the presence of the fly is not simply an annoyance, but a real menace to the home, because he brings infection

from a distance. This fact has long been suspected, but has recently been proved.

It has been noticed by Dr. Hayward, bacteriologist, and other observers, that the flies flocked in numbers about the cuspidors of those suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis. A fly speck is a trivial thing apparently, but careful examination proved that the "specks" from these flies were full of tubercular bacilli. As a consequence of their presence the bacilli of this horrid disease were scattered everywhere.

Flies imprisoned and fed on tubercular sputum die in two or three days after the infectious material was introduced. Other flies likewise poisoned and fed on milk live from eight to ten days. The "specks" or feces of these flies were rubbed up with sterile water and injected into guinea pigs and the pigs developed cases of consumption.

Electing United States senators by direct vote of the people would only be a success provided the right men were chosen. But that has always been the trouble with the old plan.

Chairman Underwood thinks Congress will adjourn early in June. Outside of appropriation bills it might name an earlier date without reducing the list of things accomplished.

Gossiping is an evil to which a majority of the human race is addicted to a greater extent than it should be. Whenever you find a woman who talks in whispers of the doings of her neighbors, who finds delight in fancying evils in the lives of others, there you find a gossip. There are not words in the language to properly designate the contumely of those who gossip. Farther it does no good, for nobody will admit he or she is a gossip. There used to be an old saying to the effect that you can judge one by the company he keeps. Much easier is it to judge one by what he talks about and in judging it is not wise to consider either sex.

ONLY PLEASURE IS TO SERVE OTHERS

Dr. J. C. Sexton Says He's Only a Country Doctor at Delta Tau Banquet.

LOCAL DELTS IN ATTENDANCE

"You can hear a great deal these days about college education amounting to nothing," declared Dr. John C. Sexton, at the annual State convention of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Saturday night, according to the Indianapolis Star, "but if your college work makes you more ready to serve others it has not been in vain. The only real pleasure one gets out of this life is to serve others. I am only a country doctor, but if I can cure the people of my community and assist in bettering their conditions, then my work has not been a failure. If your college education assists you in this way, then it has not been a failure, but a grand success."

Dr. Sexton's subject was "Stories and Reminiscences." Miles Cox and Donald Smith were among the Rushville Delta Taus who attended the banquet.

Other speakers and their subjects were: Brandt C. Downey, "The Karma"; W. W. Hammond, "Fraternity Ideals in Civic Life"; and Joseph R. Morgan, "Brotherhood in Delta Tau Delta." Mr. Downey's talk was an explanation of plans for the national convention of the fraternity which is to be held in Indianapolis in August, 1913. Several other members of the fraternity were called on for impromptu talks.

ENGLISH SPARROW IS TABLE DAINTY LONG OVERLOOKED

Uncle Sam Offers Solution For Neices and Nephews' High Cost of Living.

ARE FINE AS QUAIL ON TOAST

"Eat sparrows; when boned, broiled, buttered and served on toast, they are as fine as quail."

This is the latest advice of Uncle Sam to help his nephews and neices reduce the high cost of living.

The department of agriculture has issued a comprehensive pamphlet on the English sparrow, condemning him as a harmful pest, and concluding with a number of receipts for his preparation for the kitchen. Most of the pamphlet is devoted to demonstrating the harmfulness of sparrows and telling how to kill them.

"English sparrows," says the report, "are noisy, filthy and destructive. They drive native birds from villages and from homesteads. Though they are occasionally valuable as destroyers of noxious insects, all things considered, they do far more harm than good. Practical methods of dealing with them include destruction of nests, shooting, trapping and poisoning. Of these trapping is unquestionably the best. English sparrows are good to eat and their nutritive value and as a means of reducing their numbers."

In specifying methods of preparation for the kitchen, the bulletin gives the following directions for dressing the little culprits:

"Cut off the legs, the wings at the outer joint and neck close to the body; strip off the skin, beginning at the neck; make a cut through the body wall extending from the neck along the backbone till the ribs are severed, then around between the legs to the tail, and remove the viscera. Sparrows may be cooked by anyone of the methods employed for reed bird and quail."

LARGE CROWD AT ANNUAL MEETING

Diapasons Meet in Eighth Reunion and Enjoy Program of Old-Time Music.

TWO VIOLIN AND VOCAL SOLOS

Although the weather was very unfavorable, the crowd at the eighth annual meeting of the Diapason singers of Rush county at the Main Street Christian church yesterday afternoon was very large. Few people from the out townships were able to attend, because the day was so disagreeable, but the attendance from this city was surprising.

Stephen Dunean of Franklin, who was the first man to use the Diapason song book in Rush county, did not attend the meeting here yesterday. He is a member of the famous old Diapason quartet, a member of which is now in the West. For this reason Mr. Dunean did not come because the quartet could not sing without the absent member.

Two very pleasing numbers of the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. Hazel Spurrier Swihart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Spurrier, and a violin solo by Miss Grace McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McKee of Connersville.

Mrs. Ruth Spencer, formerly Miss Ruth Tevis of this city, was the soloist with the Indianapolis orchestra, which closed its second successful season with a concert at the Murat theater in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Spencer sang a three-part group number, composed of spring songs. She was in excellent voice and her rendition of the entire group was more than pleasing. She responded to an encore and was the recipient of a beautiful bunch of roses.

Mrs. Spencer sang, "Hey Laddie Lark," by D. Buck; "The Spring, My Dear, is no Longer Spring," by L. Ronald, and "Spring's Awakening," A. MacFayden.

Reminiscences of SHERLOCK HOLMES

by Arthur Conan Doyle
Illustrations by V.L. Barnes

The ADVENTURE OF THE DEVIL'S FOOT

In recording from time to time some of the curious experiences and interesting recollections which I associate with my long and intimate friendship with Mr. Sherlock Holmes, I have continually been faced by difficulties caused by his own aversion to publicity. To his somber and cynical spirit all popular applause was always abhorrent, and nothing amused him more at the end of a successful case than to hand over the actual exposure to some orthodox official, and to listen with a mocking smile to the general chorus of misplaced congratulations. It was indeed this attitude upon the part of my friend, and certainly not any lack of interesting material, which has caused me of late years to lay very few of my records before the public. My participation in some of his adventures was always a privilege which entailed discretion and reticence upon me.

It was, then, with considerable surprise that I received a telegram from Holmes last Tuesday—he has never been known to write where a telegram would serve—in the following terms: "Why not tell them of the Cornish horror—strange case I have handled. I have no idea what backward sweep of memory has brought the matter fresh to his mind, or what freak had caused him to desire that I should recount it; but I hasten, before another cancelling telegram may arrive, to hunt out the notes which give me the exact details of the case, and to lay the narrative before my readers."

It was, then, in the spring of the year 1897 that Holmes' iron constitution showed some symptoms of giving way in the face of constant hard work of a most exacting kind, aggravated, perhaps, by occasional indiscretions of his own. In March of that year Dr. Moore Agar, of Harley street, whose dramatic introduction to Holmes I may some day recount, gave positive injunctions that the famous private agent should lay aside all his cases and surrender himself to complete rest if he wished to avert an absolute breakdown. The state of his health was not a matter in which he himself took the faintest interest, for his mental detachment was absolute, but he was induced at last, on the threat of being permanently disqualified from work, to give himself a complete change of scene and air. Thus it was that in the early spring of that year we found ourselves together in a small cottage near Poldhu bay, at the further extremity of the Cornish peninsula.

It was a singular spot, and one peculiarly well suited to the grim humor of my patient. From the windows of our little whitewashed house, which stood high upon a grassy headland, we looked down upon the whole sinister semicircle of Mounts bay, that old death-trap of sailing vessels, with its fringe of black cliffs and sarge-swept reefs on which innumerable seamen have met their end.

On the land side our surroundings were as somber as on the sea. It was a country of rolling moors, lonely and dun-colored, with an occasional church tower to mark the site of some old-world village. In every direction upon these moors there were traces of some vanished race which had passed utterly away, and left as its sole record strange monuments of stone, irregular mounds, which contained the burned ashes of the dead, and curious earthworks which hinted at prehistoric strife. The glamour and mystery of the place, with its sinister atmosphere of forgotten nations, appealed to the imagination of my friend, and he spent much of his time in long walks and solitary meditations upon the moor. The ancient Cornish language had also arrested his attention, and he had, I remember, conceived the idea that it was akin to the Chaldean. Our simple life and peaceful, healthy routine were violently interrupted, and we were precipitated into the midst of a series

TORONTO WOMAN

Weakened by Two Operations Recover Strength With Vinol.

Here is another case where the return of health is due to Vinol, which has done so much good in restoring strength to people who have been weakened by the shock and loss of blood in surgical operations—and those who are weak from any cause.

Mr. W. Smith of Toronto, Canada, says: "My wife having been in two hospitals and undergoing two operations in twelve months, I was recently persuaded by a neighbor to give her Vinol. I am more than thankful to say she obtained immediate relief in general, as previous to using Vinol she could not sleep at night or create an appetite in any possible manner, being continually in great pain."

If you are weak and rundown, have no appetite and cannot sleep, Vinol is just what you need and we guarantee it to do all we claim. You get your money back if it does not. F. B. Johnson & Co. druggists, Rushville, Ind.

of events which caused the utmost excitement not only in Cornwall, but throughout the whole west of England. Many of my readers may retain some recollection of what was called at the time "The Cornish Horror," though a most imperfect account of the matter reached the London press. Now, after thirteen years, I will give the true details of this incredible affair to the public.

I have said that scattered towers marked the villages which dotted this part of Cornwall. The nearest of these was the hamlet of Tredannick Wollas, where the cottages of a couple of hundred inhabitants clustered round an ancient, moss-grown church. The vicar of the parish, Mr. Roundhay, was something of an archaeologist, and as such he had made his acquaintance. He was a middle-aged man, portly and affable, with a considerable fund of local lore. At his invitation we had taken tea at the vicarage, and had come to know, also, Mr. Mortimer Tregennis, an independent gentleman, who increased the clergyman's scanty resources by taking rooms in his large, straggling house. The vicar, being a bachelor, was glad to come to such an arrangement, though he had little in common with his lodger, who was a thin, dark, spectacled man, with a stoop which gave the impression of actual physical deformity. I remember that during our short visit we found the vicar garrulous, but his lodger strangely reticent, a sad-faced, introspective man, sitting with averted eyes, brooding apparently upon his own affairs.

These were the two men who entered abruptly into our little sitting-room on Tuesday, March the 16th, shortly after our breakfast hour, as we were smoking together, preparatory to our daily excursion upon the moors.

"Mr. Holmes," said the vicar, in an agitated voice, "the most extraordinary and tragic affair has occurred during the night. It is the most unheard-of business. We can only regard it as a special Providence that you should chance to be here at the time, for in all England you are the one man we need."

I glared at the intrusive vicar with no very friendly eyes; but Holmes took his pipe from his lips and sat up in his chair like an old hound who hears the view-hallo. He waved his hand to the sofa, and our palpitating visitor with his agitated companion sat side by side upon it. Mr. Mortimer Tregennis was more self-contained than the clergyman, but the twitching of his thin hands and the brightness of his dark eyes showed that they shared a common emotion.

"Shall I speak or you?" he asked of the vicar.

"Well, as you seem to have made the discovery, whatever it may be, and the vicar to have had it second-hand, perhaps you had better do the speaking," said Holmes.

I glanced at the hastily-clad clergyman, with the formally-dressed lodger seated beside him, and was amused at the surprise which Holmes' simple deduction had brought to their faces.

"Perhaps I had best say a few words first," said the vicar, "and then you can judge if you will listen to the details from Mr. Tregennis, or whether we should not hasten at once to the scene of this mysterious affair. I may explain, then, that our friend here spent last evening in the company of his two brothers, Owen and George, and of his sister Brenda, at their house of Tredannick Wartha, which is near the old stone cross upon the moor. He left them shortly after ten o'clock playing cards round the dining-room table, in excellent health and spirits. This morning, being an early riser, he walked in that direction before breakfast, and was overtaken by the carriage of Doctor Richards, who explained that he had just been sent for on a most urgent call to Tredannick Wartha. Mr. Mortimer Tregennis naturally went with him. When he arrived at Tredannick Wartha he found an extraordinary state of things. His two brothers and his sister were seated round the table exactly as he had left them, the cards still spread in front of them and the candles burned down to their sockets. The sister lay back stone-dead in her chair, while the two brothers sat on each side of her laughing, shouting and singing, the senses stricken clean out of them. All three of them, the dead woman and the two demented men, retained upon their faces an expression of the utmost horror—a convulsion of terror which was dreadful to look upon. There was no sign of the presence of anyone in the house, except Mrs. Porter, the cook and housekeeper, who declared that she had slept deeply and heard no sound during the night. Nothing had been stolen or disarranged, and there is absolutely no explanation of what the horror can be which has frightened a woman to death and two strong men out of their senses. There is the situation, Mr. Holmes, in a nutshell, and if you can help us to clear it up you will have done a great work."

We Looked Down Upon the Whole Semicircle of Mounts Bay.

I had hoped that in some way I could coax my companion back into the quiet which had been the object of our journey; but one glance at his intense face and contracted eyebrows told me how vain was now the expectation.

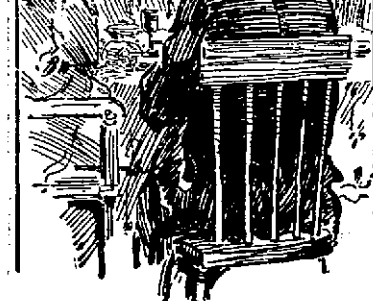

"I will look into this matter," he said at last. "On the face of it, it would appear to be a case of a very exceptional nature. Have you been there yourself, Mr. Roundhay?"

"No, Mr. Holmes. Mr. Tregennis brought back the account to the vicarage, and I at once hurried over with him to consult you."

"How far is it to the house where this singular tragedy occurred?"

"About a mile inland."

"Then we shall walk over together. But, before we start, I must ask you

At His Invitation We Had Taken Tea at the Vicarage.

a few questions, Mr. Mortimer Tregennis."

The other had been silent all this time, but I had observed that his more controlled excitement was even greater than the obtrusive emotion of the clergyman.

"Ask what you like, Mr. Holmes," said he, eagerly. "It is a bad thing to speak of, but I will answer you the truth."

"Tell me about last night."

And F. B. Johnson & Co. states that if MI-O-NA doesn't end the misery of indigestion or banish stomach distress of any kind, you can have your money back.

This guarantee applies to the following ailments, gas, acidity, heaviness, distress after eating, fermentation, heartburn, waterbrash, belching, sourness, pain in stomach, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sleeplessness, bad dreams, night sweats, headache, constipation, despondency, bloating, foul breath, coated tongue, sea or ear sickness, morning sickness.

Fifty cents a box for MI-O-NA stomach tablets at F. B. Johnson & Co., druggists, and druggists everywhere.

For those who delight in the flavor of fish, there is no more agreeable way of serving them than when cooked in a paper bag. The bag must not be an ordinary, but one made for the purpose of the tough fiber paper especially prepared for such cooking.

One might have a paper supper, paper table cover or dollies and napkins, paper candlesticks and shades, paper favors and paper flowers for decoration. This would be especially appropriate for a paper wedding anniversary.

The cocktail may be served in tiny paper bags torn open to show their contents, the salad in paper cases and the meat and fish in individual bags, piping hot, or a larger bag with the whole serving on a platter.

Halibut seasoned with tomato, lemon juice and butter will come out after fifteen minutes in a hot oven, swimming in its own juices and most delicious to the taste.

Apple dumplings baked in a paper bag are elevated from a common dish to a creation. Served with a sauce made of half a cup of softened butter, a cup of powdered sugar, a teaspoon of vanilla and half a cup of whipped cream, if it is handy, will be ambrosia fit for the goddess.

Salisbury Steaks.—Put round steak three times through the meat chopper, to have it well cut; mix with melted butter, salt and lemon juice, using one's own taste in regard to the amount used and depending upon the amount of meat. Pat out into long flat cakes and put into a well-greased paper bag to bake just ten minutes in a hot oven. Serve with baked potatoes.

Green bananas unpeeled, adding a little water to the bag, will bake nicely in twenty to twenty-five minutes and are a delicious accompaniment to the steaks with a little lemon and melted butter poured over them.

When baking small fillets of meat or biscuits, a griddle cake turner is an indispensable utensil in putting things into the bags for cooking.

ED CALLAHAN IS DEAD OF ASSASSIN'S WOUND

Famous Feudist Could Not Survive Injury.

Lexington, Ky., May 13.—Recently shot from ambush while working in his store at Crockettville, Ed Callahan is dead of his wounds at the Wither-spoon hospital at Buckhorn, in Breathitt county. Callahan was shot through the left lung, and at first it was thought he would recover, the ball having passed entirely through his body and the wound had drained well. Pneumonia set in, however, and he continued to grow worse. The famous feudist made his will and gave a statement of his belief as to the identity of his assassins to the members of his family gathered about him. The names he divulged to them, however, are kept secret.

It was a year ago last July that Callahan was shot in a similar manner. This time he was about to unlock his store when a volley from the hillside across the branch felled him to the ground. On the previous occasion the assassins fired through a window as he stood reading a letter. Bloodhounds failed to locate the assassins, although they were trailed for several miles. Callahan and his men killed his neighbor and rival log man, James Denton, twenty years ago, and ever since that time he has been counted the head of the faction.

He joined James Hargis and was elected sheriff of the county at the time Hargis was elected county judge. Under the regime of these two men scores of men were killed. Several men who said they had been hired confessed to various assassinations, alleging that Hargis and Callahan had paid for the murders after planning them. Hargis, after standing trial several times for various murders, was finally killed by his own son. Callahan had been tried for these same murders, but had escaped conviction.

POULTRY

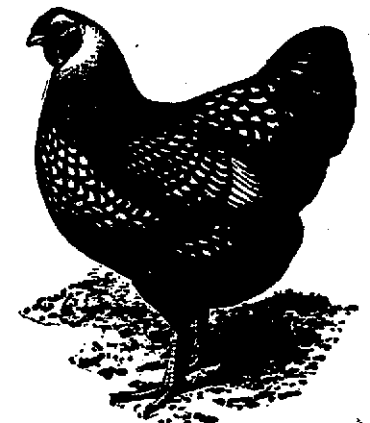

INTEREST BOYS IN POULTRY

No Part of Farming That is More Fascinating to Average Youth Than Care of Chickens.

(By KATHERINE A. GRIMES.)

There is no part of farming more fascinating to the average boy than the care of poultry. At the same time there is no branch that offers him a better chance of success.

The equipment need not cost much, and, in fact, most of the needed coops and fixtures can be built by almost any ambitious boy with very little expenditure outside of his own work. Then a small outlay for eggs or a trifle larger one for stock, and he is ready for business.

The most important consideration is the breed to be kept. It all depends upon the market which will pay the best. The layers are seldom as good for raising, frying and broiling as some of the larger breeds, as they usually weigh less at the same age, though maturing even more quickly in the matter of egg-producing.

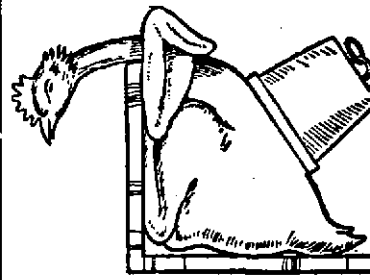

So, if you wish to keep Wyandottes, Leghorns, or Orpingtons or Rhode Island Reds, you will be perfectly safe in doing so, no matter what some one else may say in favor of other breeds.

PACK CHICKENS FOR MARKET

Fowls Should Not Carry Too Much Fat, but Just Enough to Make Flesh Tender When Cooked.

An over-fat fowl is almost as objectionable as a lean one. To fatten chickens properly they should be so fed as to have just enough fat to make them fleshy and to cook well. The fat should be well intermixed with lean meat.

Most buyers of chickens prefer crated-fed birds, as they believe them to be superior to those fed in loose pens. It does not make much difference how chickens are fed, so long as the fat is laid on in proper quantities and with right distribution.

The bird should be killed by a knife blade piercing the brain, as this promotes free bleeding. It should be hung up by the feet, head down, and plucked before it becomes cold. Poultry buyers prefer chickens that have about two inches of feathers adjoining the head.

After being plucked, the bird should be placed on a shaping board, the weight on top, to give it a compact appearance. Never allow chickens to remain hanging by the legs after being plucked, as it gives them a thin and leggy appearance.

POULTRY NOTES

Success with poultry is a matter of details.

A clean hen house is necessary both summer and winter.

Fertile eggs cannot be shipped safely unless they have strong shells.

Slacked lime is a good disinfectant to scatter around the poultry yards.

Mate about five ducks to one drake, and thirty can easily be housed in each pen.

For quick fattening try a mash of corn meal and skim milk. Feed it warm three times a day.

Success in commercial poultry farming depends upon success in the hatching and rearing of the chicks.

No one need hesitate to buy incubators or brooders because they have not before used them or saw them used.

The person who raises good stock need have no fear about prices. First class fowls always bring good prices, no matter how great the surplus of ordinary stock is.

It is a noticeable fact that few improvements have been made in recent years on the old standard breeds. Conservative raisers and dealers still prefer the old standbys.

A NEW ELEMENT IN THE CONTEST

Where Will Women Stand in the Primaries?

MR. TAFT APPEALS TO THEM

Just Before Starting on His Round-Up Trip into Ohio, the President Addressed a Special Appeal to Voters of California, Laying Special Claim to Support of Feminine Contingent There in Tomorrow's Primaries.

Washington, May 13.—On what Republican leaders say may be the most important step of the pending pre-convention campaign, President Taft left last night for Ohio. Colonel Roosevelt will give battle in the president's own state and leaders will watch developments in Ohio with keen interest. Leaders generally agree that the outcome is of the utmost importance to the Taft cause for its moral effect on the party workers. The Taft fight in Ohio will be pushed with vigor.

A president of the United States has issued his first direct appeal for women's votes in a contest for renomination. Before leaving Washington on his campaign trip to Ohio, President Taft made public an appeal that he has sent to the men and women Republicans of California for support in the primaries tomorrow. The president emphasized his claim to the women's vote by citing among the achievements of his administration the creation of the children's bureau and the appointment of Miss Julia C. Lathrop, "one of the able women of America," as its head.

The voting of the women in this contest will be watched with a good deal of interest. It is the first time they have taken part in a presidential contest in California, and their participation introduces an uncertain element into the situation. About 26,000 women voters have been registered in San Francisco alone. The president's appeal to the Californian Republicans is addressed to Colonel Hammond, his political manager there. It is based solely on the achievements of his administration.

President Taft dictated a statement which was made public after his departure for Ohio, in which he took cognizance of recent charges bearing on his attitude toward the Roman Catholic church. The president denied that Major Archibald W. Butt, his personal aide, who lost his life in the Titanic disaster, was sent on a mission to visit Pope Pius. Major Butt went abroad, Mr. Taft said, solely on account of his health. The president said he gave Major Butt a letter of introduction to the pope, but his letter contained no comment on the recent election of American cardinals. The president also denied that he sent a message of welcome to the newly appointed apostolic delegate, as was reported in some newspapers.

mangled by harrow.

Lafayette, Ind., May 13.—Everett Plumb, eighteen years old, was probably fatally injured when a disc harrow ran over him, crushing and cutting him terribly. He was driving four horses which were attached to the harrow, when a boy standing near discharged a revolver. This frightened the horses and they ran away. He was unable to get out of the path and was knocked down and run over.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST

A Simple Remedy Beautifies the Hair. Cures Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair.

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment. Special Agents, Hargrove & Mullin

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

FOR ALL COUGHS AND COLDS FOR CHILDREN AND GROWN PERSONS

Most effective with Croup and Whooping Cough

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND is quick and reliable. It stops the cough by promptly healing the cause. Contains no opiates. Is indispensable in a family where there are children.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH.
Mrs. Frank Marti, 417 Church St., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound saved the life of our baby boy. He contracted a severe bronchial trouble and coughed violently and had spells of coughing and gagging and turned black in the face. I always had great faith in Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and started giving it to the child. In a short time he was relieved and finally the cough was entirely stopped and the coughing and gagging spells ceased bothering him. He got well in a short time, gaining in weight and getting robust. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us trouble and this with the wonderful cure in baby's case shows its great merit. We are never without Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We always keep it in the house."

DR. JOHN GRIER HIBBEN.

Recently Elected to the Presidency of Princeton University.

Princeton, N. J., May 13.—Under the tall elm trees on the historic campus, John Grier Hibben was inaugurated the fourteenth president of Princeton university. President Taft and Chief Justice White were in attendance, while more than 6,000 persons gave the new president of the university a most cordial reception. The oath of office was administered by Associate Justice Mahlon Pitney of the supreme court of the United States.

NEW YORK'S TRIBUTE TO DEVOTED COUPLE

Touching Service in Memory of the Strauses.

New York, May 13.—To honor the memories of Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, a great multitude of men and women from all walks of life gathered at Carnegie hall Sunday afternoon.

Rarely has such an assemblage been seen in the city as that which filled the great auditorium from the stage to the topmost gallery. Irrespective of religion, of creed, vocation or profession, the millionaire philanthropist, the public man, ministers of all denominations, judges, lawyers, doctors, merchants, representatives of a hundred sociological, charitable or religious organizations, employees of half a dozen business enterprises from manager to humblest errand boy, joined in testifying to their grief over the tragic end of the husband and wife, and in eulogy of their splendid lives.

Mayor Gaynor spoke not only as a public official testifying to the public loss, but as a friend of many years' standing. Mr. Carnegie spoke also as an ancient friend. To him, he declared, the example of the devotion of Mrs. Straus on the deck of the Titanic was one which will live forever. He said it was impossible for anyone to forget the devotion of Mr. Straus and his wife.

Jacob H. Schiff, who spoke from an intimate friendship of thirty years, declared that in their lives Mr. and Mrs. Straus summed up the supreme test of all religions: "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

REPORTS CONFLICT

Both Federals and Rebels in Mexico Claim Victory.

El Paso, Tex., May 13.—"Engagement with the rebel main army opened at Conejos Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, after all night skirmishing between pickets. At 11 o'clock the rebels were in full retreat and we hold all their former positions and Conejos."

This message came from General Huerta, commanding the federal army at Torreón, to Mexican Consul Lorente at El Paso. The following message was received at almost the same hour in Juarez by Colonel Hererra from General Orozco, commanding the rebel army:

"Fight between the vanguard of our troops and the enemy opened early Sunday. The federal military trains are retreating violently. The opposing forces are in great numbers."

The public takes its choice according to whether its sympathies are with the federals or the rebels.

Forger Sent to Prison.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 13.—On his plea of guilty to a charge of forgery in the circuit court, Elmer W. Stoddard of Indianapolis was given a sentence of from two to fourteen years in the state prison. Stoddard was charged with having forged the name of Robert W. Morton of Indianapolis to a note for $250, which he sold to his wife.

75 HEAD TO BE IN STATISTICS ON ANNUAL AUCTION COUNTY SCHOOLS

that time he has devoted his entire time and attention to the importing, breeding and selling of Jersey cattle. In the seven auctions preceding the coming one about one thousand Jerseys and their offsprings have been disposed of at prices averaging from $210 for 93 head sold in 1903 to an average of $639 on 73 head sold in 1907.

J. R. Retherford will hold a sale of Jerseys at his farm near Muncie on Thursday, May 23, and it is expected that a number of fanciers will come here for the auction Saturday. Those who arrive Friday will be entertained during the day at the Jersey Isle farm.

As has been the arrangement at previous sales all cars on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company's lines will stop at stop 28, the Jersey Isle farm stop, on Friday before and Saturday of the auction.

EVANGELIST SAYS HE CAN'T COME

Edgar L. Williams, superintendent. Headquarters have been established in Indianapolis, and an aggressive campaign for putting the plan into effect throughout the State is already in progress. It is the idea to hold simultaneous meetings in as many towns in each county as is possible and also to have these meetings conducted in several counties at the same time. The plan was presented to the Indianapolis men by Dr. Biederwolf, who is general secretary of the national federated evangelistic committee. He was one of the experts with the Men and Religion Forward Movement and has followed the new plan as a means of conserving the results of that movement.

The county is made the unit of action. A five weeks' campaign of evangelism is to be conducted in four or five of the largest centers of population in the county under the direction of evangelists who are to be selected by the central committee. The campaign also proposes to reach the smaller villages and rural districts. To this end a number of automobile preaching trips are planned, in which the ministers and the evangelists from the larger centers will participate. Delegates from smaller towns will also be encouraged to attend the meetings in the larger centers.

Special meetings of farmers will be held as special services for other classes. The plan contemplates the duplication of such a campaign in every county. Each county will bear its own expense, and the Indianapolis men have already raised money for the operating expense of the central office.

Dr. Biederwolf is a Hoosier by birth, having been born in Monticello, and is especially eager to carry out the State-wide evangelistic campaign in his home State. Dr. Biederwolf was chaplain of the One-hundred and sixty-first Indiana volunteers during the Spanish-American war. Since the war he has devoted most of his time to evangelistic work.

A class of children will receive their first communion at the church Sunday, June 2. The class is expected to be one of the largest in recent years.

schools.

It is an interesting fact which is not generally known in the county that agriculture is a regular course of instruction in nine schools of the county. In nine schools only do they have a regular instruction in music and drawing.

There is but one case in Rush county where there is a joint school between the town and township. This is at Carthage, where many pupils outside the corporate limits of Carthage, but still in Ripley township, attend the Carthage school.

There is no instance in this county of a joint school between townships. The law provides for such a thing. There has been talk of arranging for such a school at Glenwood. That is, a school which pupils of Union township, Rush county and the township adjoining in Fayette county could attend.

There are fifty district schools in the county. There are four consolidated schools where no children are transported from abandoned schools and eleven where children are being transported from abandoned schools. The term consolidated schools means such schools as are created because of abandonment of district schools.

There were village schools with two or more rooms prior to consolidation. Of course, a village school may be a consolidated one.

The report says thirty-four wagons are being used in Rush county for transporting school children, and that four vehicles other than school wagons are being used for this purpose.

The total cost of transporting school children in the county during the year 1911-12 was $13,260. The cost of a regular school wagon per day is $2.50 and the total cost per day of the number is $93.

The report sets forth that 760 Rush county school children are being transported in school wagons or private conveyances. Twenty are being carried on the I. & C. None are carried on steam roads and the total transportation every day is 780.

The average distance pupils are hauled in school wagons, the report says, is eight miles per day. The average time they are in the wagons is two hours per day. The report says eighty-five per cent of the roads traveled by the school wagons are improved.

The average daily attendance of the pupils enrolled in the consolidated schools of the county is 1304. The average daily attendance in district schools is 648. The total expense for fuel in the consolidated schools is $1650 and the total expense for the repair of such schools is $300. The total cost of the consolidated schools in the county, the report says, is $31,650, which includes, besides the above mentioned things, $28,240, the amount paid teachers, and $1460, the amount paid janitors.

The total cost of the district schools to the county is $14,138. Of this total $11,750 is paid out in the teachers' salaries, $568 for janitors, $700 for repairs and $1120 for fuel.

The report reveals there are ten teachers in the county with only one year's experience, thirteen with two years' experience, fifteen with three years' experience, and ninety-six with four or more years' experience.

Of the total number of teachers, 134, nine are supervised by the Carthage school superintendent, thirty by the Rushville superintendent and the remaining ninety-five by the county superintendent.

There are fifty district schools in the county, fifteen graded schools, two commissioned high schools, five certified high schools, two accredited high schools and three other high schools which do not come under any of these subdivisions.

The report says there are fourteen school corporations in Rush county, which are subdivided as follows: Twelve township school corporations, one school city and one school town, Rushville and Carthage.

The report shows further that there are ninety-eight pupils enrolled in the Catholic school of Rushville, and that three teachers are employed there.
